Our qualified expertise enables us to access lost data, at a far lower level than what a normal computer is capable of. Although we've invested in State of the Art Technology, it is still necessary to employ our expertise to repair severely damaged partitions, corrupt file systems etc, by means of manual but advanced disk structure editing, using Hexadecimal Editing Techniques. This technique enables us to recover data from as low as 5 previous disk partitions.

The steps we follow for Data Recovery are as follows:

1. We do an assessment of the Storage Media to determine the success rate of recovery, timeframes and we come up with all answers for you to make the necessary decisions.
2. If we find the data is recoverable on completion of the assessment, we quote you a fixed price for the actual recovery of data and will only proceed on acceptance of the quotation.

COST OF ANALYSIS

There is no cost for the initial assessment, for us to come up with the answers, unless a situation arises where many hours need to be spent under extreme circumstances. In this case we will obtain approval before we proceed. In the case of mechanically damaged storage media and we cannot repair existing drive components, we need to purchase identical drive spares. You will be notified of this cost prior before we proceed with the purchase of drive spares.

COST OF DATA RECOVERY

On completion of the analysis, we are able to determine whether the data is recoverable or not, and the approximate timeframe for recovery. You will be quoted a fixed price to recover the data before we proceed.
